MAY STAMPEDE TO CLEVELAND

QUESTION IS DISCUSSED BY
BY DEMOCRATS

Movement Directed Against Candidacy of Judge Parker—
The Platform Receiving Serious Consideration.

St. Louis, July 1.—Practically the only feature of political interest associated with the approaching Democratic convention discussed in hotels today, was the possibility of an attempt to stampede the convention to Cleveland. The movement in the interest of Cleveland so far as it took shape to day was directed against the candidacy of Judge Parker. Friends of Parker met the situation boldly and apparently were welcoming it. They freely expressed the opinion that the serious discussion of Cleveland's name in connection with the presidency will have the effect of driving many delegates to their candidate, thus insuring a larger vote for him on the early ballots than they had otherwise counted upon. They expect many such gains from the west and south and hope to make such a showing at the very beginning of the balloting as will convince his followers that he is a winner and thus prevent a stampede to Cleveland or any one else. It is freely admitted that if Parker should fall early to secure the necessary vote his chances would be materially injured. The opinion is expressed that unless a choice is made in the early balloting the nomination will go to a dark horse.

Among the dark horses most frequently spoken of are Senator Gorman and District Attorney Folk, of this city.

An intimate political and personal friend of Gorman's who arrived during the afternoon set at rest the report that he is in the move to promote Cleveland's candidacy by declaring Gorman told him recently he would support Parker if necessary to defeat Cleveland.

Longer in advance than usual the platform question is receiving serious consideration and it is already evident there will be persistent effort to secure an expression of party views which will meet the approval of all factions. Evidently the principal contest will be over the point whether there shall be a specific declaration favorable to the affirmation of the principles enunciated in the platforms of 1880 and 1900. Delegates who are close to Bryan want reaffirmation in terms, but some of them are content to say that while making the assertion they consider other and newer questions of leading importance and are willing on that account to give more prominence to them. Some express the opinion that the preparation of the platform will be left almost entirely to Senator Gorman and Representative Williams, Democratic party leaders in congress.

Former Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, arrived today. He said no definite arrangements for organization of the convention have yet been made and predicted that none would be made until the meeting of the national committee next Monday. He favors John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, leader of the minority in the house, for temporary chairman. Thomas E. Barkworth of Michigan and Patrick A. Collins, Massachusetts, are mentioned in connection with the permanent chairmanship. The national committee will tomorrow take up and discuss the question of contests. The most important of these is the Illinois case.

There is little talk about what William J. Bryan may do, but some strong assurances are given he will not bolt. It is expected that he will have a vigorous dissent to the platform and possibly to the candidate, but some Democrats say that after expressing his dissent it is not the intention of the leaders to allow any great latitude to him after his minority report has been rejected.

HILL'S PLANS.
Utica, N. Y., July 1.—Former Senator David B. Hill and other adherents of the Democratic national convention are perfecting plans for the destruction of Tammany's opposition to their candidate. Senator Hill professed to believe to night Parker will be nominated on the second ballot if not the first and that the nomination will be affected Friday. It was learned from former Lieutenant Governor Sheehan, who cannot be present at the meeting scheduled early in the week and that he expects to use them in perfecting temporary organization in favor of Parker.

HEARST'S SUPPORTERS.
St. Louis, July 1.—A number of Hearst's supporters held a conference to night. Reports concerning the attitude of state delegations were received and it was stated Hearst controls enough votes to prevent the nomination of any other candidate.

FIRE LOSSES.
Cieburne, Tex., July 2.—Property valued at over $300,000 was destroyed by fire this (Saturday) morning in the Santa Fe shops. Three stone buildings are in ruins and everything they contained lost.

END HARMONIOUSLY

Tact of Senator Clapp Prevents Split in Minnesota Republican Convention.

St. Paul, July 1.—After five sessions, extending through two days, what was threatened to be one of the stormiest conventions ever held by the Republicans of Minnesota named the following ticket for night and adjourned in a harmonious condition:

Justices of the supreme court—Calvin L. Brown, Stevens; Charles L. Lewis, St. Louis; C. B. Elliott, Hennepin; Edwin A. Jaggard, Ramsey.

Governor—Robert C. Dunn, Milwaukee. Lieutenant governor—Ray W. Jones, Hennepin. Secretary of state—P. E. Hanson, Meeker. Treasurer—J. C. Block, Nicolet.

This result was largely due to the tact and impartiality of Senator Clapp, who, as presiding officer, brought all his influence to bear upon the leaders of rival candidates for governor to the end that contests which had been inaugurated should be fought out on the floor of the convention. While he was not entirely successful in this effort, by inducing an adjournment until the committee had thoroughly threshed over the claims of the contesting delegates, he wore out the spirit of those who on Thursday were loud in their threats to bolt if the decision of the convention was against their favorite, and when the report of the minority of the committee unseating 113 members of the Hennepin county delegation which favored Collins' nomination was adopted, the delegates parted gracefully, pledging their support to the ticket nominated and receiving cheers and applause of supporters of the opposing candidate.

The vote on this report was the first test of strength of rival candidates. It is safe to say had it not been for fear it would have a bad effect on wavering delegates, many of Dunn's supporters would have voted against unseating the Collins delegates from Minneapolis. As it was, however, the nomination for governor was decisively settled by adoption of the Dunn minority report. The Collins men, seeing themselves beaten, accepted defeat with good grace and did not present the name of their candidate. Congressman Eddy also withdrew and the nomination of Dunn was by acclamation.

Hearty endorsement by the convention of Senator Clapp's candidacy to succeed himself as United States senator seems to put to rest any talk of contest for his seat.

The platform adopted by the Republican state convention to day reaffirms the national platform and commends the administrations of McKinley and Roosevelt; believes trusts should be regulated by law and so controlled as to prevent monopoly and encourage competition; declares for the doctrine of protection and for reciprocity as defined by McKinley and Blaine; favors liberal pensions for soldiers and their preference in employment; urges legislation that will expedite construction of the Panama canal; extension of rural free delivery. On state affairs the platform declares in favor of a uniform system of permanent roads; favors an eight-hour law, a better understanding between capital and labor, union label on state supplies; commends the administration of Governor Van Sant's recommendations; Senators Nelson and Clapp be elected to succeed themselves.

NINE PERSONS HURT

Collision on Traction Line in Michigan.

Battle Creek, Mich., July 1.—As the result of a collision on the Jackson & Battle Creek Traction company's line nine persons were badly hurt, including Gen. A. L. Spitzer, of Toledo, vice president of the road and quartermaster general of the Ohio National guard, and E. E. Wilson, who had both legs broken. A local car evidently became stalled on a curve a mile and a half west of Marshall when a limited car going at high speed swept around the curve and crashed into it. There were forty-nine passengers on the limited car.

New York, July 1.—Figures showing transactions at the New York treasury during the fiscal year ended last night show $1,043,977,978 passed in and out of the treasury during the year. Last year's total was $1,501,580,172. There was $75,536,656 paid out in pensions, compared with $73,721,269 last year. The postoffice department paid in $24,149,550 and took out $21,140,458.

NAVAL BATTLE REPORTED

RIVAL FLEETS SAID TO
HAVE MET IN OPEN SEA

Details of Struggle Lacking—
Japanese Losses in Land
Fighting Severe—Vladivostok Squadron Safe.

Chefoo, July 1, 8:30 p. m.—What should prove to be a decisive naval engagement was in progress at 1 o'clock this afternoon midway between Chefoo and Port Arthur. The steamer Chefoo, which has arrived here, passed within fifteen miles of a Japanese fleet consisting of two battleships and five cruisers, all actively engaged. The Russian fleet was not seen, but the distance of the Japanese from land precludes possibility of any attack on land batteries. The captain of the Chefoo says he heard a terrific explosion.

A Chinaman who left Port Arthur last night and has arrived here says there are only four Russian warships in the harbor and none outside. The opinion prevails here the faster ships succeeded in eluding Japanese warships maintaining the blockade.

REPORT OF FIGHTING.
Mukden, June 26.—Delayed.—Heavy fighting is reported to have occurred near Port Arthur the 26th, resulting in Russian withdrawal from Gulyanshan after severe losses on both sides. The Japanese approached Shantung, midway between Port Duhny and Port Arthur, Sunday morning and bombarded the coast north of the bay as far as Utseloshan. Strong Japanese forces which had been lured then attacked neighboring heights occupied by Russian riflemen. Three times the Japanese were driven back with heavy losses, but the Russians were forced to retire from their main position near Gulyanshan. The Japanese reinforced their advance guard and pressed the attack.

After several fruitless assaults on Gulyanshan the Japanese commander sent a strong column along the central road from Duhny to Port Arthur with the object of turning the Russian left and forcing the Russians to retire. The Russians lost seven officers and nearly two hundred men killed. Japanese losses are believed to be much larger, as during the battle they passed over mine which the Russians successfully exploded.

WAR REPORTS.
St. Petersburg, July 1.—A report has been received from headquarters at Mukden that the Japanese have lost 1,000 men in a land fight before Port Arthur. A report from Liao Yang states that Major General Mischke has dealt the Japanese advance from Su Yen a severe blow by recapturing Dailan pass and that he has been inflicting loss on the Japanese for several days, capturing three guns and an ammunition train. None of these reports are official.

New Chungking, July 1.—A telegram from Gorman sources at Mukden says Kurapatkin has decided not to fight at Tatchekino or Hailong, but to retreat from Tatchekino, which movement was started Tuesday and is well under way. It is not believed here the Russians will be able to reach Liao Yang, as the Japanese control the passes.

Liao Yang, June 30.—A Japanese army is reported to be within thirty-five miles of Liao Yang, southeast of Hailong. The Japanese have withdrawn from positions from which they recently drove the Russians after five days continuous fighting.

London, July 1, 9:35 p. m.—Admiral Skrydloff, according to a dispatch from St. Petersburg to a news agency here, reports that the Vladivostok squadron has returned to Vladivostok undamaged. The admiral confirms the bombardment of Gensan.

Liao Yang, June 30.—(Delayed in Transmission).—Kurapatkin with reinforcements personally moved toward Dailan pass, whereupon the pass was evacuated by Japanese and recaptured by Russians. St. Petersburg, July 1.—Major General Pfung, telegraphing from Mukden, says: "Reports from foreign sources that a Japanese fleet sank several vessels of our squadron June 23 and that our loss included Rear Admiral Priope Ouktomsky and 700 sailors are absolutely untrue."

NO MORE SILVER DOLLARS.

Portland, Ore., July 1.—Director of Mints George T. Roberts, who is here enroute to Alaska, in an interview said: "There will never be another silver dollar turned out by a government mint unless by some chance a 16 to 1 congress should be elected, for the supply of silver bullion purchased under the Sherman act is exhausted."

Honored by Association.

St. Louis, July 1.—The National Educational association held its final session today. The department of music education elected the following: President, William A. Wessel, Salt Lake City; secretary, Philip C. Hayden, Keokuk, Iowa.

The department of special education elected: Miss Margaret Bancroft, New Jersey, president; J. H. Freeman, Jacksonville, vice president; Miss Anna Schaefer, Madison, Wis., secretary.

In the department of manual training Marks Jefferson, Ypsilanti, Mich., and D. C. Ridgeley, Normal, Ill., read papers.

HEATH'S CAREER

Utah Politician Loses His Position on Salt Lake Tribune.

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 1.—Perry S. Heath, who for two years has been conspicuous in Utah as political manager for Senator Thomas Kearns and as manager of Kearns' newspapers, the Tribune and Telegram, has been removed and was to be succeeded by Joseph Lippman, United States district attorney and manager of Kearns' senatorial campaign.

Heath became manager of the Tribune in 1902 and started the Telegram in 1903. The Tribune, formerly the leading paper of the state, has lost prestige under his management, and his removal has been expected for some time. His interest in the paper has been taken over entirely.

Heath has gone to Nova Scotia. Before leaving he said the time of his return was uncertain and it is not believed he will make his home in Salt Lake in the future, although certain real estate holdings in the city stand in his name. Heath takes the view that he has been a scapegoat. Under his management the Tribune bitterly fought the Mormons for political reasons and antagonized a large portion of them.

One result of the change probably will be a more temperate attitude on the part of the paper toward the Mormons and the burden of the past opposition will be laid on Heath. Heath employed various schemes to get business which did not result to the advantage of the paper. His first act on assuming charge of the paper was to dismiss Judge C. C. Goodwin, long its editor in chief and the leading editorial writer of the west. Judge Goodwin had a large personal following, which has bitterly fought Heath from the start, and this, with his own policies, has brought Heath's journalistic career in Utah to a close.

CASE OF VANDALISM

at World's Fair.

St. Louis, July 1.—It is learned an attempt has been made to wreck the great organ, the largest in the world, in festival hall, world's fair, by cutting the secondary bellows. This will not affect working of the organ, which can be operated with the primary bellows. Extra precautions will be taken against future vandalism by the company building the organ.

HANGING TO A TREE.
Milwaukee, July 1.—The body of Louis Bruemmer, county judge of Kewaunee county, Wisconsin, was found hanging to a tree in a ravine in Wauwatosa, a suburb of this city, to day. Bruemmer had been suffering from nervous collapse and was under treatment at a sanitarium in Wauwatosa, from which he disappeared a few days ago. He is supposed to have hanged himself while demented.

MIDSUMMER QUIET RULES

GENERAL TRADE AND IN-DUSTRY EFFECTED

Hope for More Satisfactory Half
Year Placed in Good Crop
Prospects—Better Turn in Railway Earnings.

New York, July 1.—Bradstreet's trade review for the week says: Midsummer quiet rules the general trade and industry, but good crop prospects make for hope of a much more satisfactory half year than has just closed. As yet improvement is still largely a matter of tone and of better feeling and is apparently content to move slowly until pending crop prospects become certain. Bank clearings for six months will fall at least 14 per cent behind a year ago, most of the decline being at New York. Railway earnings in June took a turn for the better and gross receipts will probably show a gain of 3 per cent for the month, though decreasing 2 per cent for six months. The fiscal year as a whole, owing to gains last year, will show an increase of 6 per cent in gross. Net earnings, however, will probably show a more slight increase from the preceding fiscal year. Failures will reflect more of increase in liabilities, due to a few large failures, than to actual casualties, indicating conservative regulation of credits by business men generally in the first half of the year. Reports of distribution vary in different sections and range from 5 to 15 per cent below last year, accordingly as different lines of distribution are considered. These conditions, however, all relate to the past and the future is traditionally hopeful.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week are 1,125,000 bushels, against 2,967,000 last year; July 1, 1903, to date, 133,855,000 bushels, against 223,105,000 last season. Corn exports for the week were 536,000 bushels, against 1,420,000 a year ago; July 1, 1903, to date, 51,555,000 bushels, against 67,000,000 last season.

DUNN'S REPORT.

Dunn's report says: Although the new fiscal year opens with an extended holiday, there is much encouragement in evidence of returning confidence and statistics for the last six months indicate there is no little reason for anticipating better things in the last half of the year. Half yearly returns of insolventcies show liabilities have steadily decreased. Railway earnings that in earlier months showed losses of 5 per cent or more in comparison with last year exhibit an increase of 2.6 per cent for June. Reports from leading branches of trade for last week testify to quiet condition, but scarcely more so than is customary at this time of the year, while inquiries in several manufacturing lines promise better distribution in the near future. Prospects are still favorable for large returns on farms despite some loss from storms during the last week. Confidence grows in the iron and steel industry, although as yet there is little support in the shape of increased orders. One reason for better feeling may be found in the satisfactory arrangement of wage scales and other labor matters. Buyers of footwear are seeking concessions because of the decline in sole leather, but manufacturers insist that other factors maintain the cost. Further decline in the price of cotton goods has not sufficed to increase the size of individual purchases, although a larger number of small orders are placed. Print cloths have held at 3 cents, a fall of 25 per cent from the top point, although the market is nominally 3%.

Failures 29, against 215 last year.

BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, July 1.—The total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet's for the past week were $1,821,484,013, a decrease of 20.8 per cent compared with the corresponding week last year.

FRANCE AND THE VATICAN.

Paris, July 1.—The budget committee of the chamber of deputies voted to day for suppression of the appropriation for the French embassy at the vatican; also passed a resolution, which will be incorporated in the committee's report, censuring Premier Combes for his refusal to express the views of the government on the subject.

OFFICERS ARRESTED.

Estherville, Iowa, July 1.—City Marshal White and Night Watchman Gifford have been arrested on a charge of bribery and the Citizens' league has raised $1,500 to prosecute them. They are charged with accepting bribes from "bootleggers" in return for protection.

COLLISION NOT REPORTED.

Washington, July 1.—A message was received at the navy department to day announcing arrival at Gibraltar of the cruiser Mayflower, but making no reference to her having collided with a British cruiser in that harbor as reported.

NEW CABINET OFFICERS.

Washington, July 1.—Paul Morton was sworn in as secretary of the navy at 3:45. Shortly before Moody, retiring secretary, took the oath as attorney general.

APPOINTED POSTMASTER.

Washington, July 1.—The president to day appointed D. A. Robinson postmaster at Dallas, Tex. There has been a vigorous contest over the office.

BIG RACE WON BY YALE

Harvard Outrowed by Sons of
Yale—Yale Lost Four Oared
Race Through Accident

New London, Conn., July 1.—The Yale-Harvard regatta was concluded just before noon to day and again Yale took the premier event. In the big varsity race the Yale men crossed the winning line by seven lengths. Throughout the race the Ells were never headed and from the crack of the pistol the result was never in doubt. It was a case of superiority in rowing strength and rowing fundamentals.

Just before the big race Harvard had snatched an eleventh-hour victory in the four-oared race. In this event Yale had had throughout and within a quarter of a mile from the finish was rowing well and two lengths ahead. At this point there was an unfortunate weakness in Yale's rigging and the outrigger on which Elms was pulling broke. This precluded all possibility of a Yale victory.

Trouble for Hawthorne Race
Track Bookmakers.

Chicago, July 1.—The threatened prosecution of the bookmakers at the Hawthorne race track materialized to day when the grand jury voted indictments against forty-two persons alleged to have been taking wagers at the track. As a result of this action Sheriff Barrett, who has refused to proceed against the bookmakers unless warrants were issued for their arrest, will be compelled to serve the subpoenas and take the accused in custody or compel them to furnish bonds for their appearance in the criminal court.

DIFFERS WITH THE GOVERNOR

OPINION OF COLORADO SU-PREME JUDGE

Dissents From Majority in Refusing Writ of Habeas Corpus to Moyer—Says Nobody Exceeded His Authority.

Denver, July 1.—Justice Robert W. Steele of the state supreme court to day filed his opinion dissenting from the decision of the majority in refusing a writ of habeas corpus to Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, when held as a military prisoner at Telluride by order of Governor Peabody. The opinion deals exhaustively with the situation created in this state by military rule and cites a mass of authorities to show that only the legislature can suspend the writ of habeas corpus.

Judge Steele declares himself willing to uphold the governor in enforcing the law "so long as he keeps within lines with the constitution" and then says: "But I am not willing to uphold him when, in my opinion, he breaks down barriers erected by the people for their protection, nor am I willing to accord to the constitutional elastic properties for the purpose of sustaining him, nor to join in the establishment of a precedent which will not apply to other classes or other conditions when another governor undertakes to exercise the same arbitrary power."

"I am not willing to concede the power claimed by the governor and exercised by him, because, in my opinion, such power is not vested in him by the constitution. The people should never have intended to erect such an engine of oppression."

"It follows, of course, that if the present executive is the sole judge of a condition which can call into action the military power and can exercise all means necessary to effectually abate conditions and the judicial department cannot inquire into the legality of his acts, the next governor may by his abuse exercise the same arbitrary power. If military authorities may deport miners this year it can deport farmers next year."

"If a strike which is not a rebellion must be so regarded because the governor says it is, then a condition must be regarded as a rebellion which the governor declares to be such; and if any condition must be regarded as a rebellion because the governor says so, then any county in the state may be declared in a state of rebellion, whether a rebellion exists or not, and every citizen subjected to arbitrary arrest and detention at the will and pleasure of the head of the executive department."

"We may then with each succeeding change in the executive branch of the government have chaos arrayed against class and interest against interest, and we shall depend for our liberty, not upon the constitution, but upon the grace and favor of the governor and his military subordinates."

Steele says authority is overwhelming that the position of the governor cannot be sustained, and declares:

"The court has not construed the constitution. It has ignored it, and the result is it has made greater inroads on the constitution than it intended and that not one of the guarantees of personal liberty can now be enforced."

He also declares that the court, "finding it impossible to sustain him (the governor) under the authority it has sustained him in spite of them."

He believes the constitution has been "unsuccessfully assailed and rudely violated by the executive department," and that the "court has removed landmarks which our fathers have set and my duty requires me to withhold my approval."

IN HANDS OF RECEIVER.

Denver, July 1.—The Fidelity Savings association went into the hands of a receiver to day. The liabilities are placed at $1,000,000 and Attorney J. C. Helm has been made receiver. E. M. Johnson, president and manager of the institution, said to night:

"Our liabilities may be $1,000,000, but I think our assets will balance them. I do not care to go into a discussion of the question now and must have time to investigate. I believe we will be able to straighten out our difficulties and keep our business."

NEW CABINET OFFICERS.

Washington, July 1.—Paul Morton was sworn in as secretary of the navy at 3:45. Shortly before Moody, retiring secretary, took the oath as attorney general.

INLAND WATERWAY

EXTENDING FROM LAKE MICHIGAN TO GULF

Contemplated—L. S. Baldwin Tells of Enterprise—Would Reclaim 400,000 Acres—Congressman Rainey and Others Interested.

L. S. Baldwin, of Whitehall, was in the city Friday and was interviewed regarding the inland channel which it is proposed to build from Lake Michigan via the Chicago river, the Chicago drainage canal, the Illinois river and the Mississippi river to the Gulf of Mexico. Mr. Baldwin is personally interested in this proposition, which has been under way for the past eight or ten years.

Through the instrumentality of ex-Congressman W. H. Hinrichsen and ex-Congressman W. E. Williams, a bill appropriating over $50,000 was passed by congress in the year 1898 for the purpose of making a thorough survey of the proposed route of the channel in the state of Illinois. The question of most concern was regarding the depth of the Illinois river, as it would be necessary for the success of the enterprise that the channel should be, throughout its entire length, at least fourteen feet deep. Active operations regarding the enterprise were necessarily suspended during the Spanish-American war, and the possibilities of its construction have therefore been retarded. The survey was commenced at the mouth of the Illinois river near Grafton and a complete report of the observations made is now in course of preparation to be presented to the proper government authorities.

Among those who have been interested in the promotion of this inland channel are the following: L. S. Baldwin, of Whitehall; ex-Congressman W. H. Hinrichsen, of Hartwell; Anna C. Keogh, of New York, now deceased; Gen. George H. White, of Kansas City, who at one time owned 8,000 acres of land near Kampsville, in Calhoun county, and who has since sold the land to Clark Bros., of Peoria; Hon. E. M. Husted, of Rockford; Martin Kingman, of Peoria; ex-Congressman W. E. Williams, of Pittsfield; Judge Withers, of Carrollton, and ex-Senator R. H. Davis, of Carrollton. Since the election of Hon. Henry T. Rainey, of Carrollton, to congress the projection of this enterprise has largely been left in his hands, and at the recent session of congress, through Mr. Rainey's efforts, a bill was passed providing for the lowering of the Kampsville dam, under the direction of the Chicago drainage commission, two feet, and if necessary in the judgment of the commission, to remove the dam entirely.

The width of the waterway, should it ever be constructed, will be from 200 to 300 feet. Mr. Baldwin, who is much interested in the enterprise, spoke very enthusiastically regarding it to a Journal reporter Friday, and stated that people generally hardly realized the importance of such an inland waterway, and the vast possibilities that would grow out of such an enterprise. He believed that it would be of greater importance to the state of Illinois, from a commercial standpoint, than anything that had happened in the last fifty years. It has been estimated that there are 400,000 acres of land in the Illinois river valley subject to overflow, and the reclamation of this immense tract, which Mr. Baldwin stated was now producing "frogs, snakes, turtles and a few fish," and the conversion of it into fertile fields of waving corn and other grains, would mean an increase of hundreds of thousands of dollars in the productive resources of the state.

Ten thousands acres of land near Kampsville, which would be affected should this waterway be constructed, is at the present time owned by a brother of Charles W. Fairbanks, the vice presidential candidate of the Republican party, and those who are interested in this enterprise feel that the Fairbanks influence will be sufficient to bring about immediate action in the promotion of this proposition. Enterprises of this character naturally take time for their consideration, and Mr. Baldwin stated that while the matter is now in the loom, he believed eventually it would be weaved out to a grand completion.

CURED OF CHRONIC DIARRHOEA AFTER TEN YEARS OF SUFFERING.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by all leading druggists.

Fourth of July Committee Promise One of the Grandest Celebrations in History of the City.

Beginning with the first crack of dawn the Fourth of July in old Jacksonville will be one long drawn out series of crackling, booming, side-splitting entertainment for the young and old of all sexes and nationalities. The committees are doing their best to make the day one long to be remembered by the noise-loving youth and the grown-up old codger, who says he don't like the Fourth. The man who gave and the man who did not will be alike welcome to the benefits and the visitor can get anything he wants by coming to the committee. If you want a place to feed your face, come and see the committee. We will do everything we can for you. Bring all the kids and the old folks. Note the program in another column and see if you don't want to get on it. You may win some of the events, for you don't know who will start. There are four entries already in the old man's race. Come out and loosen up a little.

MACKEREL BRIGADE.

The merchants should each and everyone have a representative in the Mackerel Brigade, for that it gotten up especially for them. Dress up some boy or man and let him be your representative. Give him plenty of advertising stuff and let him put the crowd wise as to what you have. The white elephant, Gaston and Alphonse, Buster Brown, Sleepy Willie, the world's fair tramp, Uncle Sam, Uncle Tom and a hundred other characters may make your business boom for the rest of the summer. Don't fail to come out and put some one in the brigade. They will meet at the court house at 2:45 in the afternoon and parade around the square, and you know what they can do if you all help. If there are only one or two, their firms will get the benefit of the advertising. Come afoot or horseback, or in a rig; we don't care. GET OUT YOUR ADVERTISING. That is what the day is for.

BABY SHOW.

Don't forget to have your baby entered in the baby show. Tell Mr. VanAngen, the shoeman, or Mr. Tomlinson, the clothier, that you have the prettiest and best kid in town and see if you can't get them to give you a prize. The prize is worth dressing the kid up for.

ATHLETICS.

Don't forget this part of the program. It will be a hot contest from start to finish. We want any and every contestant in the city who can run or hurdle to come out and show what they can do. Athletic suits are not necessary.

HORSE SHOW.

We hope that the small boys will not shoot too much when this event is going on. We know that the larger ones will not. No other rigs will be allowed on the square at this time. Bring out your rigs and mules and show what old Morgan has any way. Bring your field glasses and see if you can follow Professor Hunt into the clouds. He is certainly a sky scraper and will take up a little advantage for you if you want him to. He certainly knows his business. He might bring a little angel back with him, if you watch him close. Don't fail to come out and do all you can to help us, for we need your help.

PATENT MEDICINES.

A man that compounds or invents something that is just a little better than the next best thing, is certainly entitled to the best share of the profits to be derived from the sale of the article. So he patents or copyrights to protect his interests. Patented goods are good goods, poor goods are never patented. We have 20 years of trial behind us to give us the assurance that we have the best medicine compounded for the cure of dyspepsia, sick-headache, biliousness, indigestion, and all stomach disorders. We protect the public as well as ourselves by keeping the formula a secret, as long as we make it we know it is made right and it cures these diseases. Druggists tell us that it is the one medicine that the sale is ever on the increase. To get the best remedy for dyspepsia or indigestion ask the druggists for Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, price 25c per box, only one for a dose. For sale by Lee P. Alcott.

Sherman himself will go on to Salt Lake City. The party will return about the 1st or 15th of September. Judge Sherman has not taken a rest in four or five years and has reached that stage where he must stop. He realizes it and has decided on this rest trip, which will undoubtedly restore him.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

WEATHER RECORD

What May Be Expected During the Month of July—Statistics for the Past Twenty-five Years

Yesterday was not a typical first day of July, but there is time enough during the month to come to redeem the month and send it thundering down the ages as a record breaker for weather. The weather bureau has issued a statement compiled from the records at Springfield for the past twenty-five years showing the extremes and average conditions that have characterized the month. It shows that the mean or normal temperature for the month is 76 degrees. The warmest July was in 1879, when the average was 80 degrees, and the coolest that of 1891, when the average was 71 degrees. The highest temperature for the month was 107 degrees, recorded July 22, 1901, and the lowest 49 degrees, recorded July 9, 1891. The average precipitation for July is 3.10 inches, the average number of days with appreciable precipitation being nine. The greatest monthly precipitation was 8.51 inches in 1896 and the least five hundredths of an inch in 1886. The greatest amount of rainfall within twenty-four consecutive hours was 3.20 inches, on July 2 and 3, 1892. The average number of clear days for the month is 13; partly cloudy days, 13; cloudy days, 6. The prevailing winds are from the south and the highest velocity recorded was forty-eight miles an hour, on July 28, 1879, when the wind blew from the north.

SLIGHTLY USED PIANOS

Just returned from renting. They have been coming in and going out again so rapidly for the past two weeks that we really have not had time to mention it. But there are some excellent ones left. It's mighty nice to have some one else make a good large payment on a piano so that you only need to fix up the balance and call it yours. Come in and see them.

J. H. SPENCER.

The attendance on the opening day of the Louisiana purchase exposition is now reported officially to have been 187,793. When the great white city in Chicago, in 1893, unbarred its gates the assemblage numbered 137,557. But that was more than a decade ago, and this country has made amazing progress in population and national development since then.

There are so many new cures that there is danger of the world having more cures than diseases. An Ohio professor says he can lift his patient above the sordid things of earth, including trouble with chickens, dandelions, etc. He has built a house in a tree top and has cured consumption by living in it. If you are sick don't go to bed; climb a tree.

Students of astronomy tell us that all the planets and other heavenly bodies known to us, with one exception, are in the exact position this year as at the time of the flood and dire calamities are predicted when that one planet gets into line. But you had just as well go right along with your planting, building, etc., as we predict that this old world will still be here in 1905, but some of the astronomers may not.

Statistics compiled by a New York insurance journal shows that the American people are taking out life insurance at the rate of $8,000,000 a day. In the past year all the companies combined have paid out claims amounting to $285,350,000. The aggregate payment to beneficiaries, including annuities, etc., was $346,463,700. There are now in force in New York city alone policies aggregating $2,250,000,000.

It costs the government to pay its bills $64,000,000 every day; $85,000 every hour; more than $1,250 every minute; and more than $60 each second. John D. Rockefeller is reported to be not only the richest man in the world, but the richest man who has ever lived. His fortune is estimated at $500,000,000. But if John were to undertake to pay all the bills of the government out of his private purse he would be a bankrupt within eight months.

QUESTION OF IMMIGRATION.

Some people are becoming greatly alarmed over the procession of immigration which, never halting, is constantly increasing the population of America. Newspapers and other periodicals are paying more attention to the subject than ever before. Those who once stood against any restrictions are now asking them. They believe that the country will shortly become overcrowded. The only thing to really cause alarm at present, however, in connection with the immigration to this country, is its quality, not its quantity. America has room for the struggling peoples of the old world, those who desire to work and live useful lives and make good citizens, but not for disturbers, criminals and anarchists. Against the latter the gates should be closed.

"How many countries of Europe must be put together," asked Joseph Cook in his famous address on "Immigrant America," "to make a region equal in extent to the good, arable soil of the United States? Austria, Germany and France? These and more, Spain, Sweden and Norway added? These and more, England, Scotland and Ireland in addition? These and more, Portugal, the Netherlands, Greece, Switzerland, Denmark and Belgium. All these sixteen regions must be thrown together to cover not our territory as a whole, but that half of it which is good arable soil. These countries, with their good and pure soil, maintain two hundred millions of people. The good land of the United States will certainly sustain as many people as their good and poor land put together."

That address was delivered in 1884, but looking forward the great platform orator said:
"I set no dates; I seek to establish approximately no numbers. I assert only that America can sustain a larger population than Europe, Asia and Africa taken together; that, since it can, probably, it ultimately will; that we may expect as large an average population as Europe now possesses; that America is, therefore, yet in its infancy; that for these immense numbers of the human family we stand in trust, and that the age, therefore, has not yet ceased to be a crisis."

COMPULSORY PRIMARIES.

At the first meeting held by the new Republican state committee, a resolution was adopted unanimously pledging the support of the committee to the movement for the enactment of a compulsory primary election law applicable to the entire state and to both political parties, and providing for the appointment of a committee to prepare the necessary measure and to work for its passage by the next legislature. This is a practical step in the direction of securing the desired legislation and is an earnest of the sincerity of the party leaders and of the party in favoring its enactment.

Abundant evidence has been given in the pre-convention campaigns of both parties this year of the vital importance of regulating the primaries in order that the will of the majority may be carried out in the nomination of candidates and the determination of party policies. If any further evidence is needed by anyone, enough to convince every doubter can be found in the proceedings of the recent Democratic state convention.

If the people are deprived of their rights at any stage of the proceedings during a political campaign, it is at the primaries. That is the place where the reforms that are necessary must begin. When the primaries have been placed under official regulation and are conducted like regular elections are conducted, and when severe penalties are imposed for any irregularities that may be committed at the primaries, it always will be within the power of the majority of voters of either party to rule in the selection of the party candidates and to control the party organizations. It is the duty of the state to adopt every possible precaution to maintain the purity of elections, but it does not fulfill its obligations in that respect until it has thrown its protection over party primaries, which are equally as important to the voters as the regular elections.

At the recent state convention the Republican party of Illinois declared in favor of a compulsory primary election law applicable to the entire state, and now that the state committee has enlisted in the battle for such legislation and has inaugurated the campaign there is good reason to believe that legislation will be secured next winter and that primary reform will become an accomplished fact.

NEW SECRETARY MARRIED.

Dr. John A. Wheeler, the new secretary of the Republican state committee, yesterday followed the example of Chairman Roy O. West by taking unto himself a wife. When Dr. Wheeler was elected secretary on Wednesday of this week Mr. West laughingly remarked that as chairman he would rule that all officers of the committee must be married. Dr. Wheeler smiled blandly and yesterday he was married to Miss Florence C. Hamilton, of Girard, Macoupin county. The ceremony was performed by Dr. George F. Hall, of Bush Temple, at the home of the brides sister, Mrs. Clara Brayton, 2223 Kemore avenue, Chicago.

But the secretaryship on one day and a bride on the next were not all the good fortune which fell to Dr. Wheeler's lot. It was announced yesterday that Governor Yates had appointed him to be state game commissioner, to succeed A. J. Lovejoy, of Rescoe, who has been made registrar of the Chicago grain office.

NARROW ESCAPE

Isa Meadows Crawled Under Wabash Freight Train—Amputation of Foot May Be Necessary.

Isa Meadows, a little daughter of Mrs. Seymour, of Lorton street, met with a painful and serious accident Friday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock, while trying to cross the Wabash tracks at North Sandy street. The wheel of a car passed over the fore part of her left foot and it was little less than a miracle that she escaped instant death.

The child was on her way to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lafayette and when she reached the Wabash track found a freight train standing across the street. A bystander, whom she took to be a brakeman, told her to crawl under a car, as no engine was attached to the train. The girl started to do so, when the train began to move, catching her left foot on the rail and crushing it. She was pulled from beneath the car before further injuries resulted. A crowd soon gathered, and the little child was carried to the residence of Mr. Lafayette and Dr. H. C. Campbell summoned. He dressed the injury, but is unable to tell whether amputation will be necessary. It was indeed a narrow escape, and the girl was fortunate to get off as well as she did.

Mr. Fuller was sitting in the buggy on the Wabash right of way, when a passing train frightened the horse, which is a young animal, and it started to run up West street. As the vehicle crossed the track it struck a switch stand, throwing Mr. Fuller violently to the street, with the results before mentioned. Dr. Allan King dressed the injuries and does not regard them as being serious.

DR. W. C. COLE
LAID TO REST

Impressive Funeral Services
Were Held at Grace M. E.
Church—Large Attendance.

William C. Cole was born Oct. 2, 1844, in Cincinnati, Ohio, of German parentage. He was the youngest of the five children, of whom a sister, Mrs. C. G. Lowe, of Indianapolis, Ind., and a brother, John L. Cole, a farmer and banker of Bethany, Mo., survive. The parents were victims of the cholera, which devastated Cincinnati in 1849, and died within twenty-four hours of each other.

He was the ward of a Kentucky family with whom he lived until in March, 1860, when he came to Morgan county, Illinois, and enlisted in July, 1862, in the 101st Ill. infantry, and served until mustered out in Washington and Springfield in June, 1865. He was in Sherman's march to the sea and at Appomattox. The next five years of his life were spent in and around Jacksonville, studying and teaching, except for an interval spent at Washburn college at Crawfordville, Ind.

Dr. Cole read medicine in the early 70's with Dr. David Prince and was awarded a scholarship in the then new Louisville Medical college, from which place he was graduated in 1872. After a few years' practice at Lynnville, he took a post graduate course in Bellevue, New York city, and the New York P. & S., and in June, 1880, located in Jacksonville.

He was married in 1873 to Elizabeth A. Moore, of Nashville, Ill.

He was a member of "The Club," the Morgan County Medical society, the state Medical society, the American Medical society, the Odd Fellows and the Knights Templar.

FUNERAL.

The remains were escorted from the residence at Central hospital by the trustees, superintendent, the medical staff and thirty of the attendants to Grace church, where the impressive funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. Dr. H. H. Oneal.

As the cortege entered the church edifice the organ sounded the solemn measured tones of the "Marche Religieuse," of Guilmant. Dr. Oneal read the scripture lesson from the Psalms, repeated by the audience, and offered up a fervent prayer. Again the organ sounded with "Tranqui," (Schumann) after which the pastor read the obituary and delivered an earnest, feeling funeral address, touching on the many excellent qualities of the deceased and offering words of comfort for the bereaved family.

The service was concluded with two organ numbers, "Bereave" (Dobruck) and the "Benedictus."

The remains were then conveyed to Diamond Grove cemetery, where the ritual of the G. A. R. was performed, in charge of Commander L. Gheen and Chaplain Chapin, and the remains were there laid to rest. The bearers were: George Moore, C. Riggs Taylor, Alfred Glossup, Cyrus Matthews, J. W. Waller and C. E. McDougall.

The grave was completely hidden with the beautiful floral tributes, which were in charge of Mrs. H. B. Carriel, Mrs. T. J. Pitner, Miss Nellie Russell and Miss Layman.

The G. A. R., W. R. C. and the Morgan county Medical society attended the services in a body. J. Philip Read served at the organ.

Made by Jefferson Guards
—Says He Will Race.

St. Louis, July 1.—Santos-Dumont is indignant in regard to the charge that he had cut and slashed his own airship balloon. He said:

"I have been honored by the commanders of armies and decorated by half the monarchs of Europe, but it remained for the renowned leader of the Jefferson guards to discover my unworthiness."

"I am not in trade. Therefore the story that I wanted a concession to exhibit my balloon is ridiculous. I would not for a moment consider entering into competition with the brilliant business men who are entertaining the public on the Pike."

"At times one realizes there are problems that the code duello can only solve. However, I do not want to quarrel with the Jefferson guards. They are not military—they merely are orderlies to the great American republic."

"It seems that I am a person of amazing eccentricities. I build an airship and transport it to St. Louis at great cost for the pleasure of destroying it and carrying the ruins back to France. I am under no compulsion to race here or anywhere else. If I did not care to race I would not have come here."

"If I win the St. Louis prize, I will donate it to charity."

DESIGNS IN FIREWORKS

Special Devices For Celebrating the Fourth.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS IN ROCKETEERS

More Colors Used In All of the Designs Than Ever—Water Fireworks Greatly Improved—Meteor Candles and Colored Bombshells—Electric Niagara Waterfall a Novelty In Fountain.

Fireworks will be more than ever a feature of this year's Fourth of July, and of course there are new explosives to enhance the patriotic, says the Chicago Tribune. The countries all over the world contribute to this nation's celebration of its declaration of independence. Great numbers of the fireworks designs made abroad have combinations of America's national colors and of "Old Glory," and some of the Japanese lanterns recently received by a large firm in Chicago show designs of the American and English flags intertwined.

It is Japan, too, which sends us the daylight fireworks. They are intended for use in pleasure parks and similar places and are especially attractive to women and children. These devices are fired from mortars placed on the ground. The shells rise several hundred feet in the air, where it explodes and throws out immense figures of fish, birds, animals, flowers, pearls, streamers, globes, suns, moons, colored floating clouds and representations of thunderstorms.

These figures and shapes are brilliantly colored in such a way as to give the effect of interior illumination, though visible only in the daytime. They may be seen until they have slowly sunk to the earth or have been wafted out of range of vision by the wind. The difference between these and the Japanese balloons of animals and comical figures is that the latter are made to ascend by hot air, while the others are sent up from mortars with gunpowder. The balloons, however, are greatly improved this year, with new devices for heating the air and to prevent them catching fire.

Water fireworks, which have been seen for several years, have this year been greatly improved. These are designed to make displays on the surface of the water, upon which they are thrown from a boat or dock after having been properly lighted. In a few moments they begin to burn and show many combinations of colors in motion. Some of the designs have descriptive names indicative of what they look like, such as diving devils, flying fish, water volcanoes, sea serpents and jeweled fountains.

All the stock fireworks, such as rockets, candles, bombshells and fountains, show new features. This is particularly true of rockets. One important improvement in this piece consists in three wooden legs, which come attached to the rocket and which upon the removal of a confining band open out like a tripod, which can be stood upon the ground when ready to light.

Among new designs in rockets may be mentioned the telescope repeating rocket, which when it has reached a certain height sends out four more rockets that take slightly diverging paths, each disclosing clusters of colored stars or serpents, and the golden cloud rocket, which at the highest point of its flight distributes throughout a large area a golden cloud composed of fine particles of fire, which hang suspended in the air for some time like a mist.

The colored Japanese firework rocket at the highest point of its flight hangs out several floating batteries and fountains that remain nearly stationary in the air, projecting streams of variously colored stars and meteors in all directions, while the colored triple bouquet rocket from the point of its greatest altitude displays a bouquet of many colored stars surrounded by a golden rain, all of which changes after a short descent to a second and then to a third bouquet, in which there is complete alteration of the colors. The new mammoth balloon rocket at a height of 600 feet hangs out seven balloons, from each of which depends a signal car that changes color as it burns. All the rockets this year have more colors in them than formerly.

In Roman candles the principal new thing is the meteor candle, the continuous stream of fire from which is studded with larger balls, so that it looks like a strand of beads with larger brilliants at regular intervals. Many new designs are to be found in colored bombshells.

Among the fountains a new one this year is the electric Niagara waterfall, which is particularly large and imposing. The dragon nest, also new, is set upon the ground and fired like a fountain. It sends out first a number of stars which during their flight separate into smaller stars. At the same time a shower of colored flames ascends to the height of eight or ten feet, when burst forth innumerable hissing dragons and curling serpents.

LASADO'S BIG CATCH.
 Frank Rogers of South Orrington, Me., has quite a fish tied up at his wharf on the river shore, says the Kennebec Journal. He caught a sturgeon eight feet long, weighing 250 pounds, in his salmon net and has him fastened by a rope so that he can swim around in the creek. People who wish to see him pull him ashore, and after the inspection the big sturgeon wiggles back into deep water. The sight is quite a treat to those who have never seen such a large fish, and many embrace the opportunity.

GOULD AS A BRAKEMAN.

Millionaire Stood Test—Has Nerve and Good Eyesight.

George J. Gould and President Ramsey of the Wabash railroad have been inspecting that system very closely during the spring, and one of the features that excited Mr. Gould's interest was the system of physical examination established by President Ramsey some time ago, says the New York Globe. All applicants for places and all employees connected with the movement of trains are required to submit to a thorough examination as to their physical condition, eyesight, hearing, quickness of action, etc.

"You have got this thing down fine, Ramsey," remarked Mr. Gould, after scrutinizing the book of rules and the physician's question blank.

"Yes, I think our method covers all the points," said President Ramsey. "Anybody that passes this examination can foliate himself on being a pretty good man."

"Say, I would like to try it," said Mr. Gould impulsively. "Have you an examiner on the line that does not know me?"

After a moment's reflection President Ramsey replied: "There is a new examiner in Pittsburgh who came from New England, and I am sure that he never saw you. I will give you an ordinary card entitling you to an examination, and you can go alone and see him."

The millionaire, crack polo player, keen eyed marksman and all around athlete donned a cardigan jacket over an outfit shirt and, with an old cap on his head, sought the Wabash's physical examiner. The result of the interview, as subsequently reported by the examiner and passed up to Mr. Gould by Mr. Ramsey, ran something as follows:

"This applicant in almost perfect physical condition, as indicated on the accompanying chart. His biceps and chest measurements above the average. I have marked eyesight and hearing each at 100. Recommended that applicant be passed. He would make a good brakeman and after awhile might be trained for the post of locomotive engineer. Appears to have nerve as well as good eyesight."

FILIPINO LAD'S VIEWS.

Tells of His Pleasure at Adopting American Habits.

A dignified looking lad of about thirteen, whose yellow skin and coal black hair proclaimed his far eastern nativity, sat in the lobby of the Arlington hotel the other evening as composedly as though he were to the manner born and smilingly answered the questions addressed to him by a reporter of the Washington Post. The youth was a Filipino boy, Raymond Hipolito by name, and he went to Washington with the visiting commissioners from his own country.

"My home," said he, "is the village of Orion, in the province of Batang, Island of Luzon. All the English I speak I learned in nine months at the school, which is taught by Mr. George M. Egan, who came from Rochester, N. Y. He is a fine master and greatly loved by all the Filipino boys and girls. Some have learned to talk English better than myself, and some are still rather slow to speak it. At first I thought I could never learn it, but it grew easier all the time."

"I must say that everybody has been kind to me over here and that I like the United States very much, but the weather does not suit me as well as the kind we have in Luzon. I am glad to have adopted American habits. Before the Americans came I did not know what a knife and fork were, but ate with my fingers. Neither had I ever seen a chair, for the custom with us was to sit on the floor. Now all that is changed, and eventually we shall follow the American customs in all things."

MAN'S DAILY DEATH WATCH.

Thousands of Chicagoans See and Mistake Him For Idle Workman.

"What are you doing sitting idling while your fellows do all the work?" said the lawyer from the Stock Exchange building in Chicago to the underground cable workman. The electrician was sitting on a tool box beside a manhole at Washington and La Salle streets when the lawyer interrupted him, says the Chicago Record-Herald. He looked up and then with a faint smile said:

"I am the death watch."

"Explain yourself. I do not understand you."

"Well, those men in the hole are constantly in danger of suffocation from sewer gas. If I were in the hole I would run the same chance as they do. For their safety I sit here in the open air. I am not in range of the gases. If one of them is overcome I get busy, haul him into the open air and call a doctor. See?"

The lawyer "saw" and went about his business, admitting to himself that there were tricks in all trades, and this was one of the dangers which beset conduit men that he had never thought of.

American Idols For Korea.

A representative of a wholesale firm of Seoul, Korea, recently arrived in the United States to contract for idols to be used in the heathen temples of his country as well as in China. It seems that a few years ago an American firm sent some idols to one of the Korean sacred orders, and the results were so satisfactory that there is now a widespread demand for American idols.

Extensive Orchard.

The largest apple orchard in the world is being planted in Laclede county, Mo., and when complete will contain 5,000 acres. Imagine the beauty of such an orchard when the trees are in full bloom.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

Survey of Work to Be Done on the Isthmus.

MAGNITUDE OF THE PROJECT.

Dr. C. A. Stephens, Who Made a Trip of Observation, Says a Tidewater Canal Would Cost Over $600,000,000 and Take 20,000 Laborers Nearly Half a Century—Culebra Cut Biggest Work of Its Kind—Value of Chagres River.

Dr. C. A. Stephens, who has been well known for a generation as a writer of stories of adventure for boys, has recently visited Panama, where he has had excellent opportunities for observing the great project the nation has undertaken there, says the Washington correspondent of the New York Post.

Americans speak glibly of the possibility of a tide level canal at Panama. Of this Dr. Stephens says: "It is not an easy matter to estimate the exact amount of earth which would have to be removed to get a clear channel across the isthmus thirty-five feet below low tide at Colon and at La Boca on the bay of Panama. But computing it at the various levels, step by step up to the Culebra, through this vast cut and beyond, deducting what the French appear to have done, we obtain 446,000,000 cubic yards as a very conservative estimate of what remains to be removed in order to have an open ditch from ocean to ocean, 150 feet wide at the bottom, with thirty-five feet of standing water in it. As to the length of time required, we have to guide us only what the new French company have done. It is agreed on all hands, however, that they have worked with a fair degree of diligence and with honesty."

"During their most successful year, 1897, the new company employed 3,600 men and removed, mainly in the Culebra cut, 960,000 cubic meters, chiefly earth. This was by far the best ever done by the French. Adding 40 per cent to this 960,000 meters for better American methods and better machines and assuming that the United States will employ 20,000 laborers in place of 3,600, we find that to remove the 446,000,000 cubic meters forty-six years and nine days will be required, or until 1951. By employing 30,000 laborers the work might be done in about thirty-one years. More than 30,000 men could not be advantageously worked there. At best, therefore, allowing nothing for contingencies or accidents, a tidewater canal at Panama could not be completed before 1935, so that few of the present generation would see it."

"As to the cost of a tidewater canal at Panama, reckoning laborers' wages at only a dollar a day and the salaries of engineers, foremen, etc., at equally reasonable rates; adding present cost, figures for machinery, tools, explosives, transportation, hospital equipment and maintenance, with the thousand other minor expenses, and to this the interest on the money as used for thirty years at 3 per cent, I am unable to find the amount called for to construct a tidewater canal at less than $570,000,000, or, adding the price of the canal from the French company, $610,000,000."

Dr. Stephens in other ways makes more distinct than do the formal reports the size of the project. The Culebra cut he describes as the greatest thing of its kind ever undertaken by man. When complete it will be three-fifths of a mile wide at the top, falling off to a width of 150 feet at the bottom, into which the great lake made by the dam at Bohio will flow back, filling it to a depth of thirty-five feet. From the top of the Culebra on the north side of the cut the depth will be nearly or quite 400 feet.

These figures, he says, convey little idea of the tremendous quantity of earth and rock which must be removed. It is not until one descends into this vast trench and marks how tiny the locomotives and steam excavators look when seen in the prodigious depth and breadth of the excavation that a conception of the Herculean labor down on the mud. It is like Niagara and must be contemplated for awhile. At first sight it might be thought that a thousand men, operating 90 or 100 of these steam excavators, would dig it out in a year, but by the time the visitor has walked and climbed about the cut for an hour or two he can readily believe that the task may occupy 5,000 men, with machines, for ten years. The temperature in the cut he describes as intense. The lofty, bare sides of the excavation accumulate heat like the walls of an oven. The seething steam boilers add to the scalding glow. It makes the eyeballs ache and the lungs feel dry and hot.

"It is no place," says Dr. Stephens, "for a white man's unprotected head. A cork helmet or a green umbrella, or both, are necessary to his safety. It makes me shudder to think of the human suffering implied by ten years of labor here on the part of 5,000 men. But only at the price of this toll can stately vessels steam through the Culebra."

The French Canal company has removed much earth here, but vastly more remains to be taken out. With are lights strung along the cutting the men of the night shift would have by far the easier day's work, for then the terrible sun rays would be absent and the cooler night wind would be blowing through the trench. Indeed, if but one shift of men were employed he thinks it would be better, after the light plant was installed, to work them only by night and have them sleep in daytime. This observer's account of the Chagres river is interesting. The whole world has heard of the Chagres river, but has heard no good of it. Even a fever of lethal character has been named after it.

"When the French canal officials wished to find a scapegoat," says Dr. Stephens, "for their malfeasance in spending or stealing $200,000,000 and not digging a canal with it they selected the Chagres river and attributed everything bad to that. It washed back all the earth which they dug out, it rendered a tide water canal impossible, it brought malaria and death to their laborers; in fine, they would have constructed the Panama canal by 1892 but for that awful Chagres river!"

"I really expected to see a moral monster of a river there. I was looking for something like the Styx, as described by the classic poets. It would not have surprised me greatly to see a stream of misanthropic, green slime haunted by Chagres fever ghosts. Instead, what one sees is a pretty little river of azure water purring gently over sandy bars, quite an ideal stream, with lovely gravels and pools beneath green banks, the bare sight of which makes one think of his fishhook and line."

"But this was the dry season. I began making careful inquiries as to the wet season. Once, seventeen years ago, it did rise pretty high. At a place where the channel is much compressed, at Las Cascaides, it rose between thirty and forty feet that year for a few hours. I found that at home—among its neighbors, so to speak—the Chagres bore a good enough reputation as rivers go. In the matter of floods the Chagres is not worse than the Big Sandy, the French Broad or the Androscoggin in our own country. But for the Chagres an interoceanic canal at Panama during the next quarter of a century would be a physical impossibility. A tidewater canal at Panama is impossible except at such cost as to be practically useless to the American people. It is just here that the Chagres river comes in. By building a dam across it and across the canal at Bohio, near sea level, on the Atlantic side, an elevated inland lake may be formed across the highest portion of the isthmus, extending through the Culebra cut. By using the Chagres to form this lake more than four-fifths of the excavation necessary for a tidewater canal may be avoided. Were it not for the Chagres river this lake could not be formed. The volume of water which flows is just about sufficient to fill the lake and supply water for the locks. If it were much larger it would give trouble. If less it would be insufficient."

"A ship canal, like that at Panama, requires a vast amount of water for feeding the locks. Nothing less than a river of considerable size will suffice for the water supply. This much anatomized Chagres river is therefore the right thing in the right place. It is very fortunate for us that it is there."

A RUSSIAN LEGEND.

Diver's Story of Meeting Father Alexis on the Petropavlovsk.

The Moskovski Listok of Russia contains a curious legend contributed by a correspondent who heard it in the village of Talitsa.

The story purports to be the experience of a diver who went down to the bottom of the sea to inspect the sunken Petropavlovsk, says the London Chronicle. He saw Admiral Makarov and his officers and sailors all standing on the deck of the ill fated battleship, together with Father Alexis, the priest who went down with her. They were singing and praying for the czar, crying, "Lord have mercy upon thy people." Then they all vanished and the diver was left alone with Father Alexis, who drew nearer to him and said:

"Go back to daylight. Be silent for three days and three nights and then tell everything you have seen and heard. Tell them that we are praying in the wilderness of the ocean. The Lord will hear our prayer and give strength to our czar. Then the Petropavlovsk, battered and crippled, will rise from the bed of the sea with us all, and Admiral Makarov will hold a review of his fleet and command it to go to the Japanese capital to dictate peace to the vanquished foe. And the whole fleet will sail past the Petropavlovsk with music, 'God Save Our Czar.' Then when the fleet has passed the Petropavlovsk will sink again slowly, slowly, with all of us, into the depth of the sea, this time for all eternal ages."

A College on Christ's Plan.

A college "as Christ would have run it," with the Bible as the chief text book, is to be established by the educational board of the Presbyterian church within a few months at McKinley, Tex., says a Philadelphia dispatch to the New York American. Rev. William H. Cloggett of Texas said the other day that the charter had been applied for and $175,000 of the necessary $200,000 building fund raised. Two hundred acres have been offered by the McKinley authorities.

MR. DYE WILL REMAIN

Present J. & St. L. Office Force Will Close Up June Business—Consolidation of Express Offices at Waverly.

There is one crumb of comfort to be derived from the J. & St. L. changes and that is the fact that George W. Dye is to remain here as division freight and passenger agent. Most of the other officials will be called away, which is to be regretted, but is one of the things that seem inevitable.

Announcement has been to the office force of the J. & St. L. that they will be retained here to close up the June accounts, which will take them the greater part of July. At the end of that time it will be definitely known how large a force will remain in Jacksonville.

The Waverly station will not be closed, as was supposed. The change which gave rise to the rumor was the proposed consolidation of the two Adams express offices of that city. This change will be made soon.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY

Harry Adams Caught While Attempting a Job on "Drexel"—Had Smashed Window and Was Inside the Building.

Harry Adams, a man well known in police circles, was arrested Friday night for attempted burglary of the "Drexel." He had gained entrance to the building by breaking the glass in one of the east windows of the building, and was caught with the goods on him before he succeeded in escaping from the building.

At about midnight, Friday, Mr. Coultas, an employee of the Drexel and Dumb, noticed suspicious characters in the alley back of Williamson's drug store. Shortly afterward he notified Policeman Brainer, who summoned Policeman Fernandez, and the two investigated the surroundings thoroughly. Everything seemed to be all right, until Mr. Brainer discovered the glass of one of the arched windows on the east side had been broken in. Captain Kennedy was notified and took prompt action. The building was surrounded, with Brainer at the back door, Fernandez at the side door of the bowling alley, and Kennedy at the front. Captain Kennedy called up Mr. Franks, proprietor of the place, and he immediately came down town to open the store in order that the officers might investigate.

As the door was opened, Kennedy stepped into the room, and just as Mr. Franks turned on the light Adams jumped from behind a counter near the door and attempted to escape. He was seized by Captain Kennedy, who searched him in the presence of Mr. Franks. In his pockets were found $4.55 in cash; $10 worth of meerschaum pipes; 30c worth of cigarettes; 30c worth of cigars, and 20c worth of tobacco. In addition to these items were a skeleton key and a small wrench. He had taken all the money from the cash register, except 25c.

Adams has an unsavory reputation in police circles and they consider it a fortunate occurrence that he was caught in the act. He has been suspected of having done similar jobs in the past, but the evidence was never sufficient to warrant his arrest. The policemen are to be commended for their prompt action, which resulted in landing the man.

POLICE NEWS.
George Meadows was arrested by Policeman Murgatroyd for disturbing the peace.

ENTERTAINED CLUB.

The D. I. C. club was pleasantly entertained last evening by Miss Susie Platt at her home on South East street. Games, music and songs were the amusements and refreshments were served.

Those present were Misses Jennie and Gertrude Duncan, Stella Kelly, Alice Devellin, Mamie McBride, Lula Carlyle, Martha Hoover, May Boylan, Little Vasconcellos and Susie Platt.

GOING TO MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, July 1.—The tide is already setting toward Milwaukee, where will be held the twenty-first saengerfest of the Saengerbund of the Northwest July 28 to 31 inclusive. The committees have been hard at work for weeks perfecting the plans for the big event, which, it is even now acknowledged, promises to be the most successful ever held by the organization.

One hundred thousand people are expected to visit Milwaukee during the four last days of July and in the expectation that the hotels and regular lodging houses will be filled to overflowing with visitors to the saengerfest the promoters are at work preparing halls for the accommodation of the overflow. A large number of halls in all parts of the city have been secured and preparations are now under way to convert fifteen of these into dormitories.

The program for the song festival consists of five concerts to be given in the exposition building. These include a concert on Thursday night, July 28, and matinee and evening concerts on Friday and Saturday. At the reception concert, the first of the series, Wagner's "Meistersinger" will be the opening number. On the occasion also Mayor David S. Rose, of Milwaukee, will deliver an address of welcome to the many musical societies represented and the ceremony of the presentation of the flags by President Charles Richter of the Saengerfest association will follow.

Not only do the programs for the various concerts include some of the greatest compositions known to music, but a body of soloists, each ranking as an eminent vocalist, has been secured for the occasion, including Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, contralto; Mrs. Minnie Fish, Griffin, soprano; Ellison Van Hooser, tenor and Arthur Van Eweyk, baritone. These will be assisted by choruses ranging all the way from 2,500 to 4,000 voices, and varied from a mixed chorus of enormous size to an exclusively male chorus and to one of children's voices. From the advance made in the art of music and musical training in the past few years, from the enthusiasm with which the promoters have entered upon the preliminaries of the big saengerfest and from the results of their labors as so far evident there cannot be the slightest doubt that the Milwaukee Saengerfest of 1901 will be the greatest in the history of the Saengerbund. Ninety-three musical societies in California, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin are members of the Saengerbund and all will be represented during the first week of July.

MATRIMONIAL

KIEL-RAGSDALE.

Miss Edna Ragsdale and Sidney A. Kiel, both of this city, were married Thursday in East St. Louis at the Summit Avenue M. E. church parsonage, by the pastor, Rev. John Frances Harmon. The ceremony was witnessed by a number of relatives of the bride.

The announcement of the marriage of the young people will come as a surprise to their many friends here. They went to St. Louis, presumably to see the fair, and there formulated the plan of getting married. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Kershaw, was with them, and he brother, Homer Ragsdale, and his wife were also in St. Louis.

Mrs. Kiel is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ragsdale and is a charming young lady who has a large circle of friends. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kiel and is employed as a cutter at Capps' factory.

GOLF TOURNEY.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 1.—William Anderson, golf professional at Apawamis, N. Y., holds both the national and western open championship titles. In a sensational finish in the western event this afternoon Anderson gained the western title from the holder, Alexander Smith, of Kansas. He totaled 301 for the seventy-two holes competition and reduced the course record to 72. Smith had to be satisfied with 308 and runner-up honors.

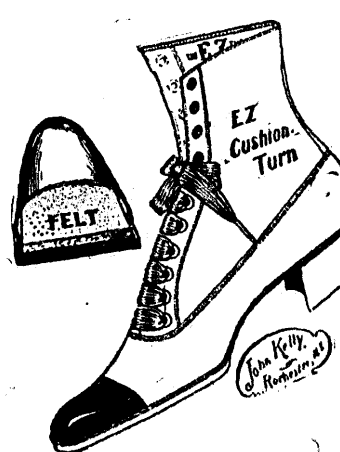

Two amateurs remained to the end in the contest for the gold and silver medals. B. P. McKinney, of Normandie, St. Louis, carried off the former with a total of 306, while George F. Chingman, Jr., of Homewood 110, won the other silver medal with 320.

SAFEGUARD THE CHILDREN.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. Frank Riggs, of Franklinville, N. Y., in speaking of this remedy, said: "I have found it expedient to have a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand. It has been a family safeguard and while especially beneficial to children, it is equally good in adult cases. I recommend it cheerfully and without reservation." For sale by all leading druggists.
